

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

--A packet of stacked absorbent paper tissues, such as a plastic wrapping sheet includes an opening part allowing a region to be uncovered for grasping at least one tissue so as to extract it individually from the wrapper, with a parallelepipedal overall shape defined by a height, a width and a thickness, the height and the width being equal so that the packet has square front and rear frontal faces.--